

Appendix A: Self-assessment form

This self-assessment form should be completed by the complaints officer and it must be reviewed and approved by the landlord's governing body at least annually.

Once approved, landlords must publish the self-assessment as part of the annual complaints performance and service improvement report on their website. The governing body's response to the report must be published alongside this.

Landlords are required to complete the self-assessment in full and support all statements with evidence, with additional commentary as necessary.

We recognise that there may be a small number of circumstances where landlords are unable to meet the requirements, for example, if they do not have a website. In these circumstances, we expect landlords to deliver the intentions of the Code in an alternative way, for example by publishing information in a public area so that it is easily accessible.

Section 1: Definition of a complaint

Code provision	Code requirement	Comply: Yes / No	Evidence	Commentary / explanation
1.2	A complaint must be defined as: 'an expression of dissatisfaction, however made, about the standard of service, actions or lack of action by the landlord, its own staff, or those acting on its behalf, affecting a resident or group of residents.'	Yes	Complaints Policy We have included the definition verbatim within our Complaints Policy. We also ensure that the definition of a complaint is used when responding to and acknowledging a complaint.
1.3	A resident does not have to use the word 'complaint' for it to be treated as such. Whenever a resident expresses dissatisfaction landlords must give them the choice to make complaint. A complaint that is submitted via a third party or representative must be handled in line with the landlord's complaints policy.	Yes	Staff are trained to ensure any person expressing dissatisfaction with our service is reminded of their right to complain. If someone does want to make a complaint, a copy of our Complaints Policy is sent to them.
1.4	Landlords must recognise the difference between a service request and a complaint. This must be set out in their complaints policy. A service request is a request from a resident to the landlord requiring action to be taken to put something right. Service requests are not complaints, but must be recorded, monitored and reviewed regularly.	Yes	As per our Complaints Policy , We elaborate on this stating "If you are approaching us for a service for the first time, (e.g. reporting a fault, requesting an appointment etc.) then this policy does not apply. You should first give us a chance to respond to your request. If you make a request for a service and then are not happy with our response, you will be able to make your concern known as we describe below and log a formal complaint.”

1.5	A complaint must be raised when the resident expresses dissatisfaction with the response to their service request, even if the handling of the service request remains ongoing. Landlords must not stop their efforts to address the service request if the resident complains.	Yes	Complaints Policy Repairs and Maintenance Policy Tenancy Agreement We have duties as landlords which we take very seriously. We need to act and respond in accordance with our Complaints Policy, Repairs and Maintenance Policy, the tenant’s tenancy agreement, statutory law as well as anti social behaviour policy, hoarding etc. Therefore our duties in these areas do not stop when a complaint is ongoing. We still have a duty regardless of the complaint. In our Complaints Policy, we also state, “If possible, we believe it is best to deal with things straight away rather than try to sort them out later. If you have a concern, raise it with your Housing Officer. He or she will try to resolve it for you there and then. If there are any lessons to learn from addressing your concern then your Housing Officer will draw them to our attention. If the Housing Officer cannot help, they will explain why and you can then ask for a formal investigation. “

1.6	An expression of dissatisfaction with services made through a survey is not defined as a complaint, though wherever possible, the person completing the survey should be made aware of how they can pursue a complaint if they wish to. Where landlords ask for wider feedback about their services, they also must provide details of how residents can complain.	Yes	Complaints Policy In accompanying cover letters (in easy read) provided to tenants, we ensure they understand their rights to raise a complaint. A copy of our policy (also in easy read) is sent and explained during new tenant inductions. All staff are trained to ensure that they highlight a tenants’ right to complain.

Landlords must consider whether to apply discretion to accept complaints made outside this time limit where there are good reasons to do so.	Yes	Each complaint will be taken seriously and assessed within its own merits of what the best and most suitable course of action would be. If there are lessons which could be learnt, despite the time frame, we would definitely look into this.
2.4	If a landlord decides not to accept a complaint, an explanation must be provided to the resident setting out the reasons why the matter is not suitable for the complaints process and the right to take that decision to the Ombudsman. If the Ombudsman does not agree that the exclusion has been fairly applied, the Ombudsman may tell the landlord to		This is within our policy and we will also remind the complainant of their right to contact the Housing Ombudsman, should they be unhappy with any decision we've made and justification given to why we would not accept the complaint.
